THE FUTURE OF JOB

The pace of technology adoption is expected to remain high and may accelerate in some areas.

The adoption of following trends remain high priorities for business leaders:

- Cloud computing, Big data and E-commerce, Encryption, Non-humanoid robots and Artificial intelligence.

Source: World Economic Forum. October 2020

The future of work has already arrived for a large majority of the online white-collar workforce.

Eighty-four percent of employers are set to rapidly digitalize working processes,

Employers are set to move 44% of their workforce to operate remotely

Automation, in tandem with the COVID-19 recession, is creating a 'double-disruption' scenario for workers. In addition to the current disruption from the pandemic-induced lockdowns and economic contraction, technological adoption by companies will transform tasks, jobs and skills by 2025

of businesses surveyed indicate that they are set to reduce their workforce due to technology integration of businesses surveyed indicate plan to expand their use of contractors for task-specialized work

By 2025, the time spent on current tasks at work by humans and machines will be equal
